

TODD LAW TIMES

ISSUE 3 • VOLUME 3
APRIL 2021

104 S Main Street
Jonesboro, GA 30236
770.477.7878

josephmtodd.com

Groundbreaking of New City Hall Brings More Growth to Jonesboro

Photo credit: Clayton News Daily

and atrium. Deemed the Jonesboro City Center, the two-story building will also house Municipal Court and City Council Chambers along with the Permit and Licensing Department.

We were thrilled to learn that the atrium will be named in Mayor Day's honor; we are excited to watch the construction for the new complex get underway, and will be anxiously awaiting the grand opening slated for March 2022.

The landscape of Jonesboro is going to improve again with a new building that will bring a brand-new City Hall to Lee Street Park.

The $12.1 million, 23,000 square-foot building will be right near Todd Law's backyard on Smith Street on the west end of Lee Street Park and will include the courthouse, police department, probation offices, community room,

City officials break ground. Photo credit: Captured by V

Mayor Day crying upon learning the new atrium would be named in her honor

Photo credit: Clayton News Daily