Father Daughter Team Share Special Pastime As Braves Win World Series!

For the first time since 1995, our hometown team the Atlanta Braves won the World Series! It was a once-in-a-lifetime experience to be at Truist Park during Game Four when the Braves won 3-2 against the Houston Astros.

“What an amazing experience to not only see the Braves play in the World Series but be able to go with my Dad and Daniel,” Attorney Jillian Todd said. “Going to Braves games is a favorite past time with my dad so this was icing on the cake! Way to go Braves!!”

The crowd went wild, and it was a packed house as the Braves battled the Astros after winning the night before 2-0. Atlanta took the series in six games in a blowout final showdown, scoring seven runs to Houston's zero on their home turf at Minute Maid Park. Go Braves!

Attorney Jillian Todd Recognized For Pro Bono Work, Follows Dad's Footsteps

Jillian with her award

The apple doesn't fall far from the tree as the saying goes and that is definitely true when it comes to the dedication and compassion Attorney Jillian Todd extends to her clients; lessons she learned from her father and founder of the firm, Attorney Joe Todd. Jillian was recently recognized with an award for the extensive Pro Bono work she has done through the Atlanta Legal Aid Society's Pro Bono project, which helps those in need of legal services who do not have the resources to pay an attorney. Short for the Latin phrase "pro bono publico" which means "for the public good", pro bono legal services have been a common thread between Jillian and her dad; Jillian's award comes 27 years after Joe was recognized by the State Bar of Georgia for his pro bono work. Congratulations, Jillian!

Gaga's Holiday Tomato Pudding

Grandma Joanne Kurt, also known as "Gaga," was known for opening her door to anyone who needed a hot meal at the holidays, especially college kids who couldn't go home for Thanksgiving or Christmas, when she always served her famed Tomato Pudding. Sweet and savory, this dish has the same consistency as bread pudding and pairs perfectly with turkey and mashed potatoes.

Grandma Joanne Kurt

INGREDIENTS

- 15 oz can tomato puree
- 2 cups light brown sugar
- 2 teaspoons cornstarch
- 1 – 12oz package Kings Hawaiian rolls (12 count), cut into cubes
- 2 sticks butter, melted

DIRECTIONS

1. Allow bread cubes to sit out on the counter so they become stale (even overnight is OK).
2. Pre-heat oven to 325°F
3. Put bread cubes in greased 8x8 casserole dish.
4. In a saucepan over medium-high heat, melt butter. Once melted, add tomato puree, brown sugar, corn starch, and dash of salt. Stir until brown sugar is dissolved, approximately 5-6 minutes.
5. Pour tomato mixture over the bread and bake uncovered for 45 minutes.
6. Remove from oven and allow to set for at least 10 minutes before serving.

Raving Fan of the Month

"After 6 years of trying to get a divorce with bad experiences with prior lawyers I came across Todd Law. They gave me the price and had a great consultation. Everyone was extremely nice when I called for updates. I worked with Jillian Todd, and she was beyond a pleasure to work with! I really appreciated the patience Jillian had with my case and the persistent work she put in to get my divorced settled for me. I am so happy, and I have so much gratitude towards her and her work. If you're looking for someone to represent you, Jillian is the way! Thanks so much, Jillian." - Ivy Beh
